1. Headquarters Air Weather Service occasionally has a need to communicate with their field commanders on matters pertaining to support of agency projects. Since they have no direct secure channel for such communication, it has been suggested that their messages pertaining to agency support might be relayed through [REDACTED] and the agency station chiefs at AWS field unit locations. The only field locations under consideration are [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. The AWS Wing Commanders at these locations have been IDEALIST cleared. The total number of messages involved will not exceed twelve per year.
